1980 ON THE MOVE

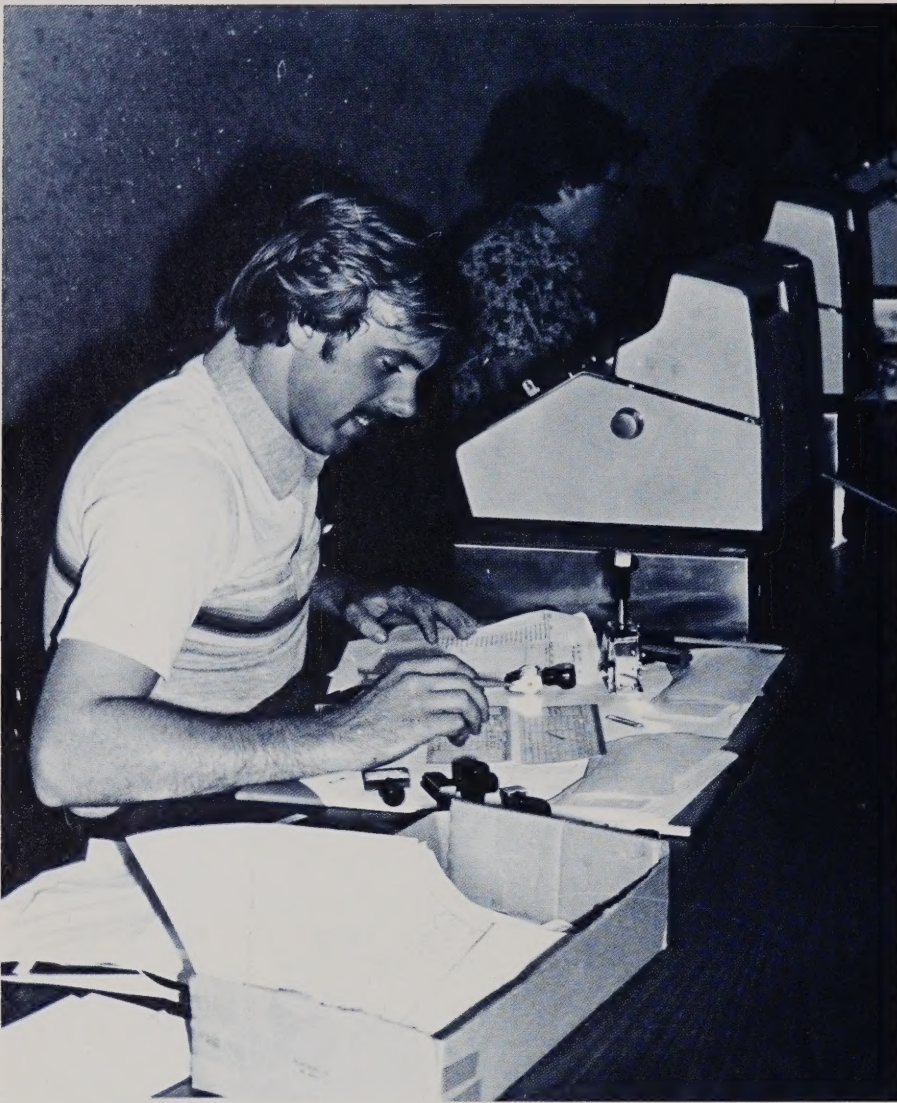

State Technical Institute At Memphis
Memphis, Tennessee

MOVIN' AROUND Pages 18-31
MOVIN' TOGETHER Pages 32-85
MOVIN' AHEAD Pages 85-156

State Tech has long been known for its ability to produce quality employees. Our students are trained to use their minds as well as their hands. In the ever changing world of technology we must be prepared to meet the demands of our employers. We are constantly working to improve our curriculum and to keep abreast of the changes in our world. We at State Tech are constantly "On The Move."

MOVIN' AROUND

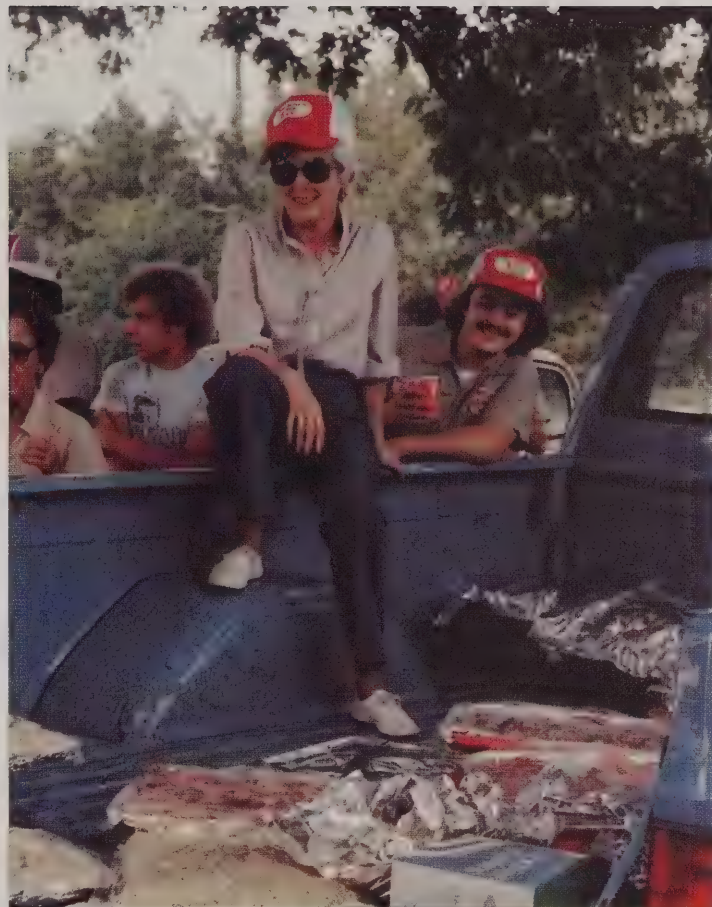

The Clubs and Organizations at STIM are a very important aspect of student life. We learn to work together as a group striving to reach a goal. We plan activities to allow us to relax as well as projects to help us learn. We learn to share ideas with each other and realize that no one can stand alone. We need other people to make our lives complete.

MOVIN' TOGETHER

Teamwork is the key word in achieving a common goal. As children we were taught to play with other children, as adults we learn to work with others. Our "team" at State Tech is proud of the winning record we have over the past eleven years. We have maintained an excellent standard of education and have led our students into futures of which they can be proud.

MOVIN' AHEAD

We can not consider graduation from this Institute to be the end. It is just the beginning. We can now move ahead to using the things we have learned. We can now see the positive results of our past endeavors. The faculty has much to be proud of. Our students are solving problems of the future and we at State Tech have helped open minds to new fields. As we move ahead we can look back and appreciate the hard work of those who helped train us. By moving ahead, we also move up.

Student Government Association

The purpose of the S.G.A. is to help promote activities for the student body and also to serve as an advisory group to the administration, faculty and staff. The S.G.A. is the students voice in helping to direct the affairs of the Institute. Feel free to contact any S.G.A. member at any time to provide input or to discuss any problems that you may have. The S.G.A. started its year by having a Summer/Statewide S.G.A. Conference in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. This consisted of leadership training for S.G.A. Officers and later meeting with S.G.A. leaders from all Technical Institute in Tennessee. The same type of thing was attempted in the fall, but this time at Fall Creek Falls State Park. Both these events have proved to be very beneficial to the S.G.A. Some of the things the S.G.A. have become involved in are: 1. Traffic Appeals Board, 2. Peer Counseling, 3. Problem-Solving, 4. Establishing better rapport with administration and the faculty at STIM.

VETERANS AWARENESS ORGANIZATION

Andrew Wooden

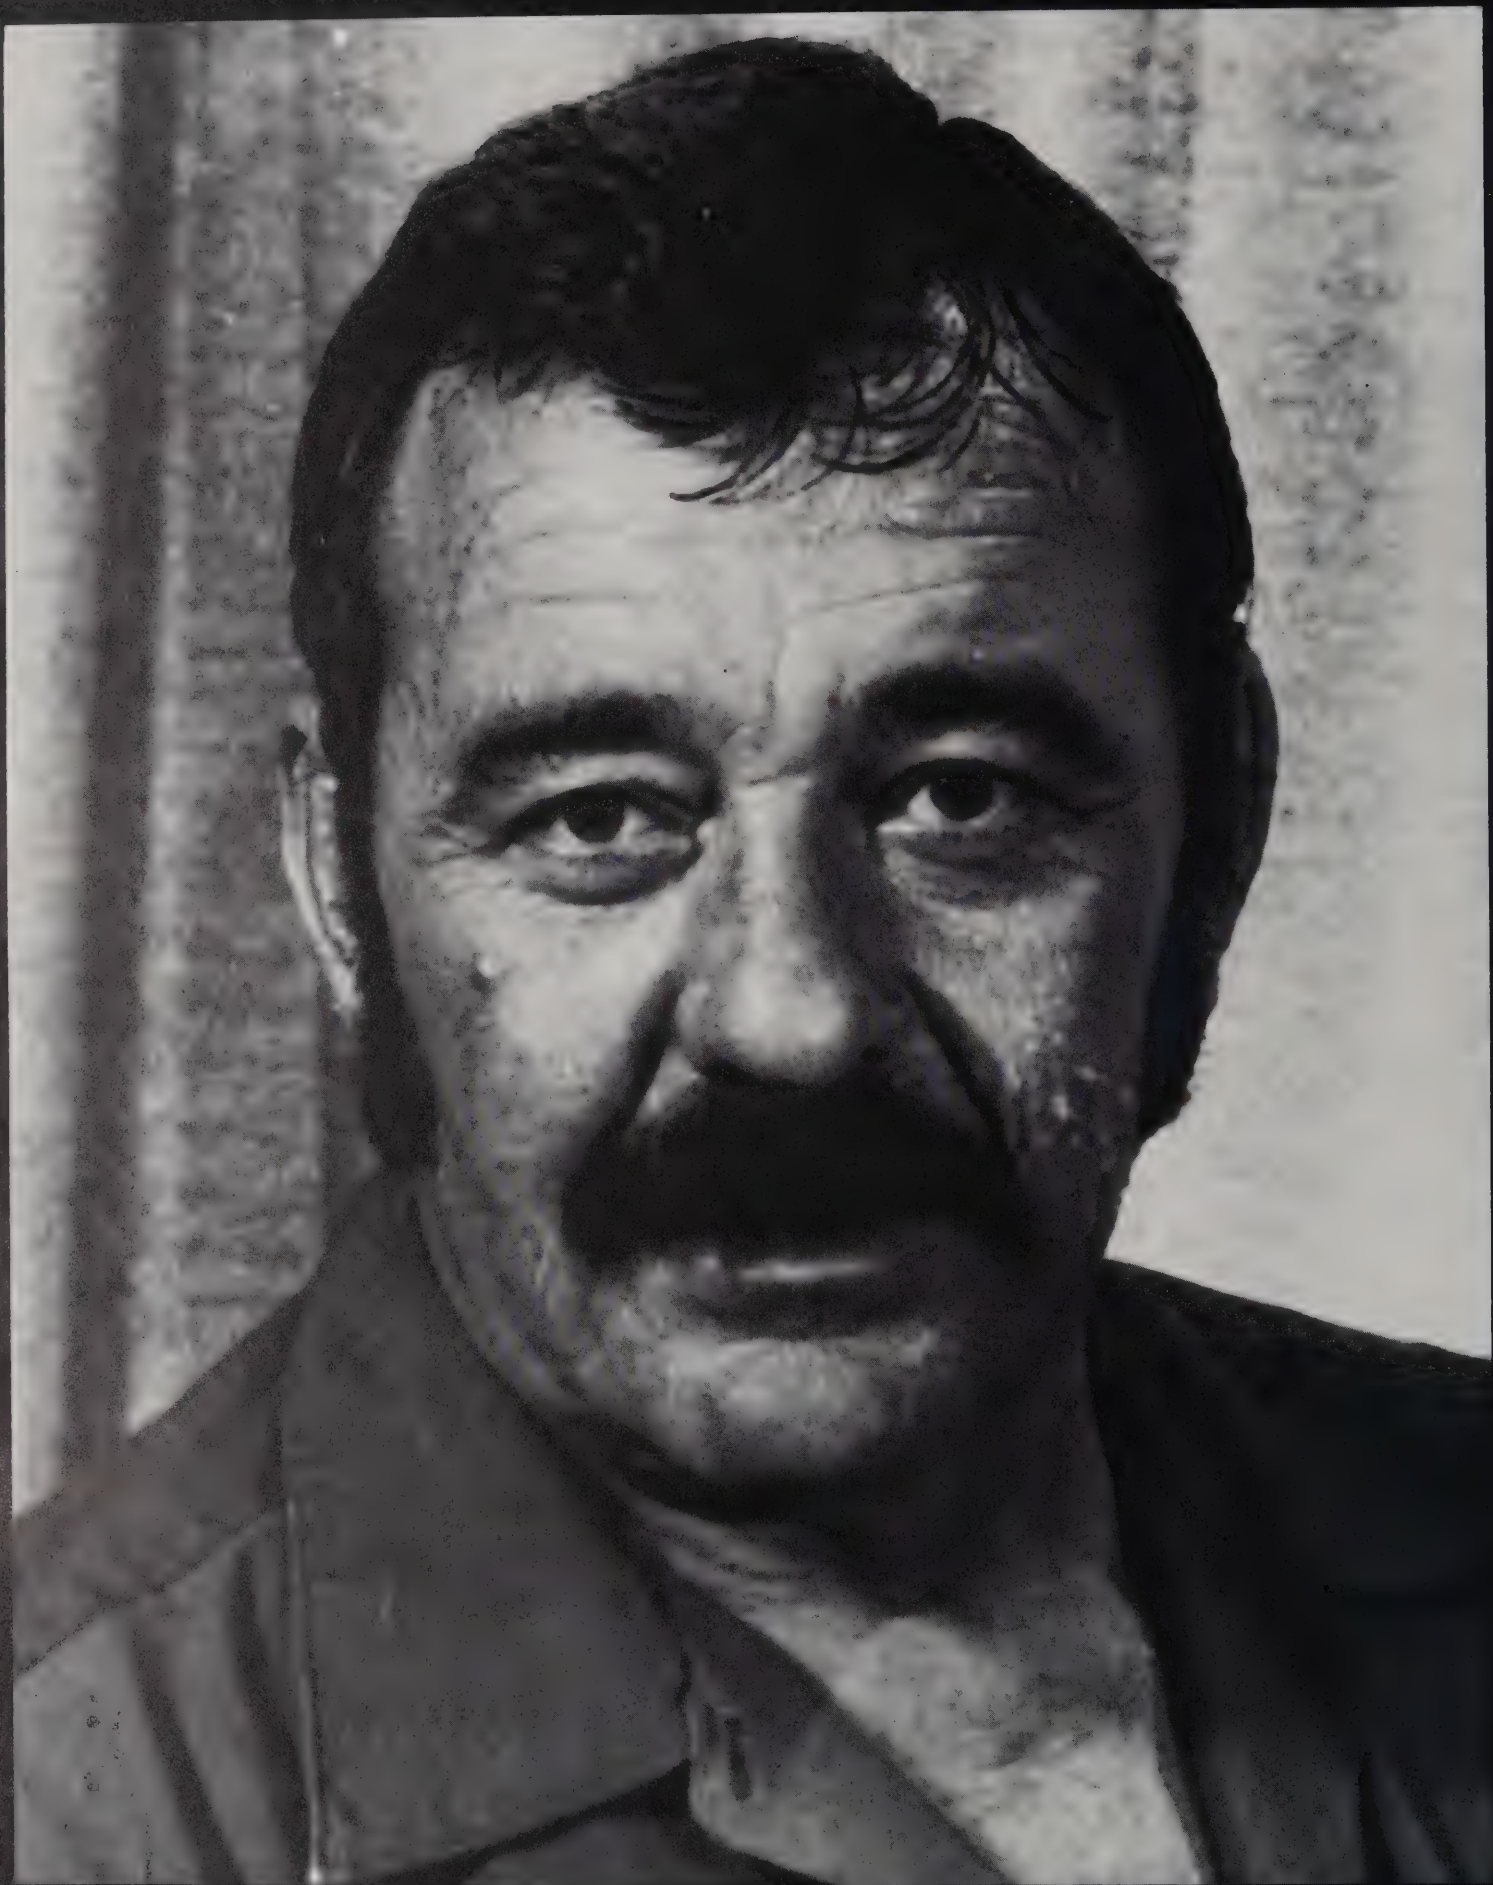

Each year, year after year, there is a group of faculty and staff who choose to become involved with students in a related learning experience that is most beneficial to the students at State Tech. Through donation of their (the club advisors) time and energy students are able to choose to participate in some 15 clubs and organizations that fall into three categories: social, professional, and service.

It should be noted that the time is donated by the professional staff as club advisors is totally free. These State Tech faculty and staff are not given any compensation in the form of pay or time off for their services donated to these clubs. For this donation of time we sincerely thank all faculty and staff who have participated during the last year while serving as club advisors.

What is the impact of clubs and organizations at State Tech? What do students gain from becoming involved in clubs and organizations at State Tech? The following list of accomplishments, while it is not inclusive, could give a student an idea of what is available to them and what is to be gained by their participation in the clubs.

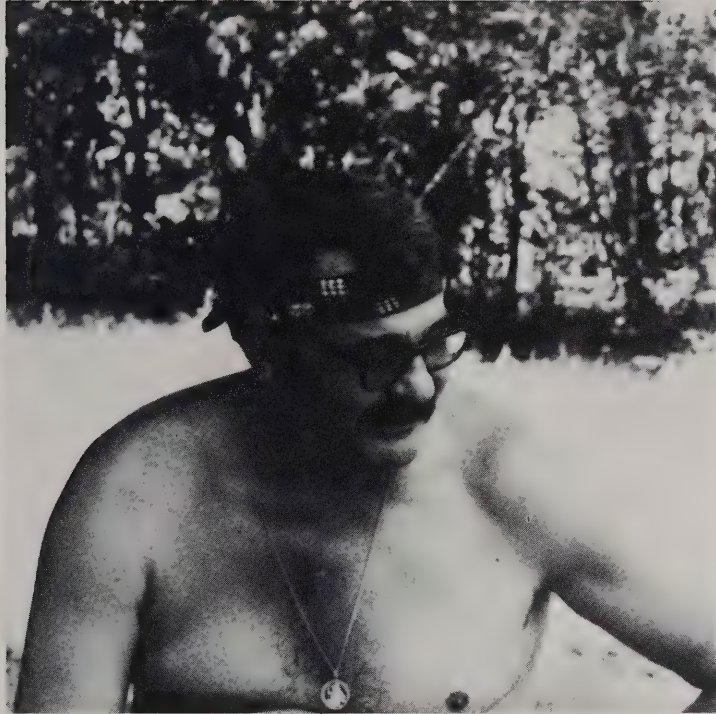

1. As a result of the fund raising events sponsored by the clubs and organizations on State Tech's campus six (6) students are on scholarship.
2. As a result of the clubs and organization on campus, some 31 guest speakers from business and industry have been invited on campus to speak to students during activity period. These guest speakers are also potential employers.
3. Fifty-two events, such as dances, parties, potluck suppers, and seminars, have been sponsored by the clubs and organizations on State Tech's campus or in the community over the past year.
4. The clubs and organizations on State Tech's campus have attended some eight conventions or professional meetings. As a result of this, some 95 students have had the opportunity to attend professional meetings and present paper or exhibits.
5. Fifteen students from the clubs and organizations on State Tech's campus have participated in holding national or state office, receiving awards, presenting paper, or receiving national or state recognition.
6. Some fourteen clubs during the last year have participated in service events. As a result over $12,500 in cash, or goods, or services has been raised for the community or the Institute.
7. It is estimated that some 105 students have benefited directly in the placement process from their involvement in the clubs and organizations. This benefit could have come from having the opportunity to meet prospective employers during activity period who were serving as guest speakers or as a result of their participation in a club or organization, they were a better candidate for employment.

The above accomplishments all took place during this year. It is easy to see that the clubs and organizations on STIM's campus have provided a very valuable part in student services. The clubs and organizations would not be successful if it was not through the time donated and the services given by the faculty and staff while serving as club advisors. It is hoped that all persons on STIM's campus will make it known to these individuals how much we appreciated their time and services.

IN HONOR OF

Hard-working, honest, dedicated, sincere, loving. These words describe a man that gave his all to State Tech. Always ready to help, Bob Macklin enjoyed his job, and people enjoyed having him do the job. He could find good in the bad, he could smile when no one else could see why. The rough, tough, macho-man exterior could not hide his teddy-bear smile nor the love in his heart for the people at State Tech. Men like Bob Macklin are few and far between. State Tech was fortunate to have him — even for a while.

New student orientation helps acquaint students with all facets of student life.

Erin Johnson is stirring up another cake. Wonder who the lucky "birthday boy" is now???

Don't forget . . . Yearbook pictures are taken every fall quarter.

Faculty members are anxiously awaiting the arrival of new students.

If Sheila Kelly and Greg Maksi knew what was behind them, they wouldn't be smiling!

"I'm only going to say this ONE more time . . ."

You never know what to expect at the SGA dances.

If watermelon tastes that bad, why eat it?

How can Dean Cunningham smile like this at his own birthday party?

Some of our students can really dance a jig after final exams!

These two are anxiously awaiting for classes to begin.

Faculty Council

In view of the expected growth in size and complexity of the faculty of State Technical Institute at Memphis, the resulting need for improved ways and means of organizing this faculty into a coherent body dedicated to the study and improvement of the academic climate of this Institute, and to provide channels of communication by which the results of faculty study and deliberation may be formulated into recommendations to the administration of the Institute, the Faculty Council of State Technical Institute at Memphis is hereby organized.

The Faculty Council, elected by the faculty each fall quarter, provides a means whereby members may investigate matters of general Institute interest, pass resolutions, and consult with and make recommendations to the President and other administrative officers.

Administrative Council

The Administrative Council is the major recommending body of the Institute on matters of policy affecting more than one area of the Institute. It provides a forum for the exchange of information and for discussion on any issue which cuts across normal channels of communication and/or management. It makes its recommendations to the senior policy committee, The Executive Committee.

The Administrative Council will deal with issues that arise, are anticipated, and are related to the joint responsibilities of two or more of the following areas: Instruction, Evening and Special Programs, Student Affairs, Administrative Affairs, Business Office, and Administrative Services. When issues are procedural and members of the Council agree, the Council can and should render final decisions. Only when the procedural question is beyond resolution at this level will a recommendation be made to the Executive Committee. In those cases in which change or a new institutional policy is required, a recommendation will be made to the Executive Committee.

The Council will also act as a forum for the presentation of new ideas and the exchange of information concerning present and planned activities.

Charles O. Whitehead

President, State Technical Institute at Memphis

REMEMBER!

I know this, your STIMWINDER, will bring you joy and fond recollections both today and for many years to come. Your stay here at State Tech has been a pleasure for all of us, and I hope for you. We have experienced an exchange of ideas, feelings, successes and failures. But through it all, each of us has improved and expanded our abilities, our knowledge and our chances for the future.

I hope that in future years as you browse through this book, you can say "Gosh, I looked funny then" or "I knew her when . . ." or "That person really had a marked effect on my life." Also, as you browse and remember some of us who will stay on at State Tech after you have departed, it is our desire that you return for a visit and chat with some of us who also remember you.

Charles O. Whitehead
President

Executive Committee

Mr. Earl H. Cunningham,
DEAN OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

STUDENT AFFAIRS

"A service organization to help instruction and enhance the life of the whole student" is the apt description of the deanery that is Student Affairs. Representatives of the area have contact with students from the time they think of entering State Tech until they depart through graduation or other routes.

Included in the Student Affairs area are: Admissions and Records, High School Recruiting, Counseling, Testing, Financial Aid, Veterans Affairs and Student Activities such as clubs, organizations and intramurals.

Student Affairs' main office is on the ground floor of Thornton Building. The area is a beehive of activity which includes both the pleasant and not-so-pleasant aspects of student life. Students with academic or personal problems usually find their way to the helping hands of Student Affairs.

The organization also works closely with the Student Government Association in all its activities and serves as a testing center for several national examinations on a regular basis. Student Affairs is responsible for student publications, which include the yearbook, student handbook and the campus newspaper.

Dr. Warner Dickerson, DIRECTOR,
ADMINISTRATIVE AFFAIRS

ADMINISTRATIVE AFFAIRS

From its location near the President's Office, Administrative Affairs spreads its tentacles throughout campus and beyond. The primary focus is on placement, resource development, institutional grants, institutional relations involving new training opportunities through industrial relations, public relations, minority affairs, and the off-campus operations of co-operative education. Part of the personnel and activity of Administrative Affairs is located in rented offices in the Shelby Oaks Complex across the expressway from the Institute. There are about ten Administrative Affairs persons at Shelby Oaks and in Dunn Building.

Executive Committee

Mr. Thurman Jackson,
DEAN, INSTRUCTIONAL AFFAIRS

INSTRUCTION

From a numerical standpoint, Instruction is the largest single subdivision within the campus complex. Its responsibilities cover the broad concept of the school from curriculum development to quality of instruction.

Headquartered in Dunn Building, the Office of the Dean of Instruction is the major point of decision in instructional affairs. Under the instructional umbrella are: the Computer Technologies Division, Business Technologies Division, Engineering Technologies Division, Related Studies and the academic support areas of the Learning Resource Center and Educational Services.

Educational Services is responsible for the coordination of faculty development programs and activities, and the supervision of educational services that are offered to the instructional staff. Duties pertaining to faculty development include coordinating in-service training and the return-to-industry program, motivating faculty members to participate in developmental activities, and developing techniques for integrating innovative educational developments into the operating of the Institute.

In addition to basic curriculum development, Instruction keeps abreast of the needs of business and industry in order to recommend new programs. It also is Instruction's responsibility to ensure that all programs meet the requirements of the various accrediting agencies. In that same vein, the deanery is responsible for educational matters in all special programs. The job-ready graduate, with technical skills and ability to communicate on the job, is the necessary product of Instruction.

EVENING AND SPECIAL PROGRAMS

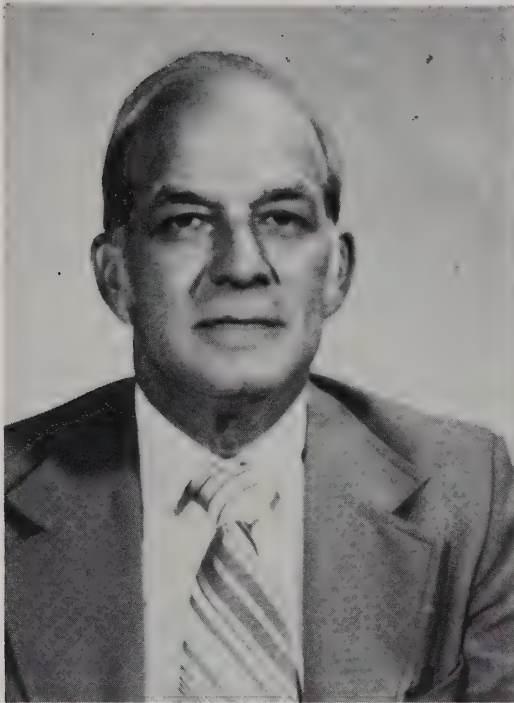

When the shadows of the setting sun turn the State Tech campus into a study in geometric patterns, the operation of Evening and Special Programs rises to meet the "night people." ESP, in reality, is a microcosm of the overall administrative organization of State Tech. Evening students, who constitute about half the enrollment, require and receive the full range of services accorded day students.

In addition to being responsible for all instruction, on and off campus, after 5p.m., ESP oversees weekend college on Friday nights and Saturdays, and the satellite classes at Memphis Naval Air Station. Rounding out ESP's major responsibilities is its continuing supervision of the Department of Business, Industry, and Government Training. BIG trains, cross-trains and upgrades persons already employed throughout West Tennessee. The training for persons in business, industry and government may be tailored to meet specific needs, and where circumstances permit, can be offered at locations off the campus throughout West Tennessee.

Dr. William Saul,
DEAN, EVENING AND SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Executive Committee

Mr. Mitch Batta,
NAVY PROJECT

NAVY CONTRACT PROGRAMS

Emmanuel K. Bhatta, Director

State Tech is currently under contract to provide one hundred and seventy-three (173) technical instructors to the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Memphis. Under this contract we provide instructors in four (4) broad areas.

Aviation Fundamentals is a self-paced, computer managed course, with average completion time sixty (60) hours and here we provide thirty-eight (38) instructors. The average input is 17,000 students.

In the Mechanical school, State Tech provides forty-four (44) instructors and is participating in three (3) courses for Aviation Structural Mechanics. These Mechanics are responsible for the basic structure, the hydraulics system, and the safety equipment installed in Naval aircraft. STIM is also operating the testing centers in the Aviation Machinist Mate (Jet Mechanics) course. The annual input for these four (4) courses is 5500 students.

In Electronics, State Tech provides fifty-three (53) instructors and is participating in three (3) courses. These are the First Course of Aviation Electrician-Mates, The Advanced First Term Electronics Course, The Intermediate Level Electronics Course. The annual input into these three (3) programs is 3500 students.

In Air Traffic Control Systems we provide thirty-eight (38) instructor personnel. Here we are teaching eleven (11) maintenance courses on some of the most complex electronic systems in the Navy. This is the equipment that controls landing of aircraft in all kinds of weather. The annual input is 700 students.

This contract makes State Tech an integral part of Navy training at Millington.

BUSINESS OFFICE

For every person who attends State Tech and for each person employed at the Institute there are business transactions. It is the responsibility of the Business Office to handle all such financial operations related to the school. From its locations in the northeast corner of Dunn Building, the Business Office handles all of the Institute's business. Employees of the office take care of purchasing, grants, inventory and accounts. In addition, the office collects all incoming funds, prepares financial reports, prepares and administers all budgets, produces appropriation and capital expenditure requests, handles student aid grants and the accompanying records and prepares and dispenses payroll.

The Business Office prepares reports to the State and Federal Governments on funds such as grants and contracts and oversees property contracts for such matters as warehousing. Representatives of the office assist in all student registration, both on and off campus. Its services are available day and night and on weekends as the needs arise.

Mr. James Taylor,
BUSINESS OFFICE MANAGER

Executive Committee

Mr. William Coburn, DIRECTOR,
ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

This is a group of employees whose duties are almost exclusively directed to services for students, faculty, and staff. From a central office on the second floor of George E. Freeman Library, Administrative Services radiates to every nook and cranny of the campus. From personnel to maintenance of buildings and grounds to safety and security, computer services, food services, the telephone system, the book store and Internal Control, Administrative Services is the responsible organization. Administrative Services also is called on to administer some non-traditional programs where the schools' organizational system cannot meet the needs.

The Administrative Assistant manages routine office matters for the President and coordinates with the offices of his Executive Committee members.

FROM YOUR EDITOR

This has been a great year for me as your Editor. Words cannot express my gratitude to the people who have helped me. I only hope that as we move around, together and ahead our lives will be blessed.

Many thanks, to Sylvia and Tuna for their hard work. Special thanks to Mrs. Pam Powell and Mrs. Judy Howell for being our Advisors, and who gave us the strength and will to go on. To Ed Brown and the Student Services Division for making it all possible and to the students for giving me the pleasure and privilege of being your 1980 STIMWIN-
DER EDITOR.
